With Gov. Leroy Collins returning to office in resounding triumph, and perjurer-acused State Sen. Harry King of Bartow being bounced out of office by indignant voters Tuesday, it looks as though good government is beginning to creep up on Florida—pathwork state constitution or no.

We're glad West Palm Beach got some of the rain, too. With all that pre-rain talk about drawing water out of Lake Okechobee to supply the coastal city's needs, we got to wondering how long it would take a bass to walk from its bed to the nearest remaining fresh water.

BURSTITIS

Bursitis is an inflammation of a bursa, a sac filled with a sticky fluid which lies between parts of the body that move upon one another. The condition may be so painful that affected persons have trouble sleeping without the aid of sedatives. Movement creates such anguish that the victim does everything possible to avoid it.

"Housemaid's knee," "tennis elbow" and "tailor's bursitis" are all terms that refer to particular forms of the condition. However, it is not restricted to these occupations. It may develop in any occupation requiring a given pressure in handling a tool, for example, a carpenter's drill.

There are some 25 bursae in the body, such as the top of the shoulder, the back of the shoulder blades and over the hips. When there is excessive friction brought on by irritation or bruising, bursitis is apt to occur.

When a bursa is inflamed, the lubricating substance may stick together and hamper movement, causing a severe pain at the joint. Calcium deposits form which adds to the restriction of motion, thus increasing the pain. When the bursa is injured or infected, there may be an excess of fluid.

Infection, injury or irritation can cause bursitis. Chronic infections in the nose and throat may be responsible by creating secondary infections in a bursa, particularly one located in an area subjected to bruising or too much movement, such as the shoulder or the elbow.

The exact cause of the inflammation must be determined and eliminated to avoid recurrence. Usually the condition responds to early treatment of symptoms, but if treatment is delayed, the affected joint may be partly or completely crippled.

Bursitis responds to application of heat and rest. While hot compresses and towels are useful, care should be exercised to avoid burns.

Anytime a large-type dog named Mr. T-Bone Towser wants to give up his place in his private railway car, he can simply send for little old car-less me.

This dog, called Towser by his friends, is the proprietor of a weekly newspaper in Nevada, and takes trips in his own railway car. With him travel his owners, fellows named Lucius Beebe and Charles Segge.

Towser has the largest section of the instructions to the crew posted in the railway car, and they are so dog-blasted impressive that even Saturday Review, a magazine devoted more to prose than to pups, takes note.

Among the instructions: "The Steward will be asked occasionally to wait or walk down the aisle of the car. He MUST be chained to his leash at all times. He prefers a grassy or busy spot but will settle for a lamp post or fire plug if necessary."

He will follow orders as follows if given in a slow commanding voice: Come here Towser (he will come); Sit down Towser (he will sit); Shake hands, Towser (if distracted, repeat and pat his leg); Stay, Towser (he will remain in the spot and position he is occupying when the command is given); Be quiet Towser (he will lie down, sometimes).

His water pan should be available to him at all times, on the platform or on newspapers in the dining room or back hallway. He has the run of the car and can open all swinging doors by himself.

But pause — on second thought, would I trade places with Towser? He is a St. Bernard, giant size.

Maybe he can open swinging doors or moving train. Migosh, I don't even know many PEOPLE who can do that. Perhaps I'd best withdraw my proposal for his place in the railway car.

At least, until I grow a little.

I am sad to report that my good friend Teeny Davis died Monday at 6 p.m., apparently of a heart condition. Teeny, a sort of push-faced little thing who snuffled because all proper Pekingese dogs, was 11 years old. Services were held Tuesday morning and she was buried in the yard of her residence at 538 Bacon Point Rd.

So long, Teeny. I'll miss our races in the sand and our arguments over bones. There'll never be another Peke like you.

Many a fellow has gone to glory (not the kind you might think by flying around another car and over a hill).

There isn't enough good luck to spread out and save all those drivers who go like mad. So protect your future by investing in it now with safe driving practices.

Brace up brother, the worst may be yet to come. Officers may some day start arresting all the folks we see breaking the law on our highways.

A state trooper is one of the finest guys you can meet on the highway, if you're not breaking a traffic law.

WHO'S A FARMER?

It is getting harder and harder these days to find a farmer from a man in some other occupation.

The fact that a man lives in the country, several miles from town, doesn't always make him a farmer. There are more than two million men in the U.S. who live in the country, yet earn most of their living from jobs in town.

On the other hand, there are many full-time farmers who live in town. With their operations fully mechanized and by the miracle of modern transportation, they can drive several miles to their farm business, put in a day's work and then get home in less time than it took their fathers driving a team from the far corner of the quarter section.

Yep, times have sure changed. And there are still city folks who think every farm has a cow and a flock of chickens. They should watch for the milk delivery and bakery trucks the next time they're out driving in the "country."

Man Helps Spread Pests, Making Control Harder

BY SPUDS JOHNSON
Agricultural News Service

Many agricultural problems are man-made. A scientist observed recently that the Mediterranean fruit fly came to Florida recently by man-made mechanical wings rather than the fly's own. He said that through the ages man has unwittingly introduced pests that were potential robbers of food from our dinner tables and fibers from our fields and closets.

Early settlers brought with them the codling moth. After more than 300 years the pest is still with us and continues to take its toll. Likewise the night fungus that blight-killed this country from Asia has cost us a good source of lumber and nuts—the chestnut tree.

Ticks shipped with cattle to new ranges have plagued man and cattle with fever and death. The list of man-posed agricultural problems is long and it is getting longer. The fruit fly infestation is one of the latest examples.

The cost of producing food for man-introduced pests is high. It is estimated that one out of every 10 dollars in production costs goes for insect control. It takes one out of every 10 acres to feed the pests. Add these losses caused by man spread diseases and poor soil conservation practices and the toll is far beyond what we can well afford.

The problem of protecting Florida crops from foreign pest is not now in the state is much more difficult now than former fly. Travel is much faster and more extensive now than ever before. And every traveler from a foreign country is a potential spreader of agricultural pests.

BG Woman's Club Has Fashion Show, Guests

Installation of officers, with the immediate past president of the Florida Federation as installing officer, and a fashion show were features of the May 2 meeting of Belle Glade Woman's Club at which Pahokee Woman's Club members were guests.

Mrs. Roscoe Braddock was chairman of arrangements, and introduced Mrs. E. D. Pearce who was guest speaker as well as installing officer. Mrs. George H. Tucker, jr., president of the Pahokee club introduced her visiting clubwomen.

The fashion show, under the direction of Mrs. Stoehr, fashion coordinator for Burdine's West Palm Beach store, was presented during the dessert course of the luncheon. Entitled "Fun in the Sun," it featured play suits, dresses, and bathing suits.

The devotion was given by Mrs. H. E. Garrett using "Hallelujah" for her theme. Mrs. Pearce spoke on the European tour which she took this past summer, following her attendance at the International Convention of Women's Clubs which was held in Geneva, Switzerland with some 2000 women present.

Following her talk, she installed the new officers, speaking of the heritage they have from those officers who have preceded them. Her installation program took a humorous turn as she presented each officer in turn with trinkets designed "to help in her job," and in keeping with the duties of her office.

Installed were Mrs. Thomas Bregger, president; Mrs. Leland Harris, first vice president; Mrs. Russell Tucker, second vice president; Mrs. C. A. Bailey, recording secretary; Mrs. Dalton Harrison, corresponding secretary; Mrs. R. S. Kent, treasurer; Mrs. E. D. Humphries, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Frances Harris, auditor.

Mrs. Braddock presented Mrs. Pearce with a gift from the local club of a dress length of ramie cloth. Hostesses were Mrs. L. L. Price, who served as adviser to the committee, Mrs. Herbert Beck, Mrs. H. L. Royals, Mrs. C. J. Aspey, Mrs. J. P. Halbrook, Mrs. E. S. Roberts, and Mrs. Braddock.

Tea With Meals For Family Good Will

When planning a family meal, most women think in terms of the likes and dislikes of the members of the family. They strive for good nutrition first, which is essential in rearing a healthy family. But meals serve a purpose other than gustatory revelation. . . It's also a time of day to encourage esprit de corps among family members. One of the elements so basic in encouraging family oneness is relaxation. In this connection we'd like to recommend a hot beverage—tea—as a time-saver of good will in the family unit.

Tea not only aids digestion but relaxes the body, relieves nervous tension and provides a pick-up which most folks need—especially parents after a busy day.

To make a full-bodied pot of tea for the family meal, it's important to follow the Four Golden Rules—just as it's important to follow a cake recipe precisely. The rules are simple—(1) always use a teapot (2) use 1 teaspoon of tea to 1 tea bag per cup (3) bring fresh water to a full-rolling boil and (4) brew 3-5 minutes.

A surprise main dish, sure to please the family is Duck Hawaiian.

DUCK HAWAIIAN

Cut 1 5-6 lb. Long Island duckling, dressed weight, into serving pieces. Remove skin; place duck pieces in mixing bowl. Combine 2 tablespoons kitchen bouquet, ½ cup lemon juice, 1 clove garlic finely minced; pour over duck. Marinate 45 minutes turning occasionally. Melt 2 tablespoons duck fat in heavy frying pan. Brown pieces of duck on all sides. Add 1 cup unsweetened pineapple juice and any left-over marinade. Cover tightly; simmer until duck is tender—about 45 minutes. Add 2 green peppers cut into 1½ inch cubes. Cover and cook 15 minutes longer. Blend together 2 tablespoons corn starch, liquid from 1-3 ounce can of mushroom crowns and ½ cup sugar. Add to duck stirring constantly until thickened. Add 4 slices unsweetened pineapple cut in quarters, 4 medium sized carrots quartered and cooked and fresh water to a full-rolling boil and (4) brew 3-5 minutes.

Everyone in the "Glades" is cordially invited to visit the Telephone Building on the above dates.

Perhaps you've been wondering how your dial telephone works . . . what takes place when you dial a call . . . how a long distance call is handled. Now is a good time to look behind the scenes and see for yourself how the marvelous mechanical "operators" switch your calls.

We'll be here to welcome you and show you around. Also, we have special exhibits prepared for your visit. In fact, we've done our best to arrange an interesting event, and we think you'll enjoy it.

So remember the dates and be sure to bring the whole family.

Lt. Mrs. Thomas Kirk, Jr. To Live In California

Lt. and Mrs. Thomas S. Kirk, jr., whose marriage took place in Ft. Lauderdale Apr. 27, will live at Travis Air Force Base in California, where the lieutenant is now assigned.

Lieutenant Kirk is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Kirk, sr., of Winter Park, former Pahokee residents. He was a 1950 graduate of Pahokee high school. Mrs. Kirk is the former Miss Diane Downing, daughter of Mrs. W. Kenneth Downing and the late Mr. Downing, of Ft. Lauderdale.

The wedding took place at Park Temple Methodist Church in Ft. Lauderdale, with Rev. George A. Foster performing the double ring candlelight ceremony.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her uncle, Dr. Ernest W. Cason, Tallahassee. Her formal gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle, worn over taffeta, was fashioned with long tapered sleeves and a lace bodice with a scoop decollete.

A flared lace peplum accented the bouffant skirt of nylon tulle. Her finger-tip veil of French illusion was held by a half bonnet of lace embroidered with seed pearls, and the train carried a white orchid and lilies of the valley on her prayer book. Miss Charlene Williamson, maid of honor, wore white silk organza over taffeta, designed with a full flared skirt and a fitted bodice. Accents of French blue were introduced in the belt and her headpiece, a half circlet of blue surrounded with small rosebuds.

The maid of honor carried a colonial bouquet of white rosebuds and carnations with blue delphinium.

Lieutenant Kirk had his brother, William Marshall Kirk, West Palm Beach, as best man. Ushers were Bob Roberts and Bob Feltzer, his fraternity brothers, and Martin Woodward.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple received congratulations at a reception in the church lounge. Mrs. Downing wore a pink linen sheath embroidered with seed pearls and a corsage of white French iris.

The bridegroom's mother chose a gown of blue embossed nylon complemented with a blue French iris corsage.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, Belle Glade CHRISTIAN SCIENCE GROUP, Canal Point

How spiritualization of thought brings man enlarged ability and opportunity will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Mortals and Immortals" at Christian Science services Sunday.

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (265:9-15): "Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritually,—they must near the broader interpretations of being and gain some proper sense of the infinite,—in order that sin and mortality may be put off."

"This scientific sense of being, forsaking matter for Spirit, by no means suggests man's absorption into Deity and the loss of his identity, but confers upon man enlarged individually, a wider sphere of thought and action, a more expansive love, a higher and more permanent peace."

3 FAMILIES NEEDING HELP

PAHOKEE — Mrs. Emogene Almore, Red Cross case worker for this area says that three families in Camp Everglades need mattresses, bed clothing, kitchen equipment and children's clothing.

These families lost everything in the fire which occurred during the night about 10 days ago, Mrs. Almore said. The girls range in age from 3 years to 16 and the two boys are 7 and 18. PAHOKEE — Sunday, May 6, was James Templeton's 98th birthday, and his grandson, Vance Denton, Mrs. Denton and family entertained in his home with a patio dinner. A principal game played was "Who told Mamie Eisenhower about grandpa's birthday?"

For last Friday, on gold-engraved White House notepaper, the venerable Mr. Templeton received birthday congratulations and a wish for "peace and happiness . . . in abundance in the years to come", signed "Mamie Eisenhower." Grandpa Templeton, according to Denton, responded to the letter simply, "Humph." And nobody seems to know, after much inter-family conference, who told Mamie that granddaddy was 98.

Rescue 'Victim' Make-up Emphasizes Realism

MAKE-UP MAN Jack Newlin, an instructor at the Federal Civil Defense Administration's Olney, Md., rescue school, applies finishing touches to some volunteer rescue "victims." The rescue school, opened in August 1952, has graduated thousands of students who became rescue instructors back in their home towns. (FEDA Photo)

TO THE VOTERS OF PAHOKEE:

After very careful consideration I find it advisable that I withdraw from the race of City Councilman, Group 3, subject to your vote next Tuesday.

I have made this decision because I feel it is best for the City of Pahokee in that I feel certain recent developments would impair my service were I elected.

I want to take this opportunity to thank each voter who went to the polls and voted last Tuesday, and to you who so kindly voted for me I shall always deeply appreciate your expression of confidence.
